MG Dean Fox Presents The Future of Air Force Engineering: Readiness and Facilities - The Civil Engineers Perspective

The SAME Washington DC Post held a program on Air Force Engineering on 25 August 2005 at the Washington Navy Yard Conference Center in Washington DC. The program was attended by 132 SAME members, young members, and representatives from the public and private sectors.

Major General Dean Fox, The U.S. Air Force Civil Engineer, gave a presentation on current operational support to the Global War On Terrorism (GWT) by USAF contingency engineers including RED HORSE units, and also gave a future outlook at AF facilities programs. Major General Fox's presentation included a discussion on the efforts and missions the AF engineers are involved with in the current theater of operations. He also discussed current facility program issues and BRAC-related impacts on these programs with an eye to the future.

Col Maida, SAME Washington DC Post President presented Major General Fox with a SAME coin and thanked him for taking the time to present at the SAME Washington DC Post program. Col. Maida also presented Major General Fox with the 5 Year SAME Washington DC Post Sustaining Membership Plaque to the Air Force Civil Engineers.

MG Ronald Johnson Presents US Army Installation Management Agency (IMA) Program Briefing

The SAME Washington DC Post held a program on IMA on 28 July 2005 at the Crowne Plaza National Airport Hotel in Crystal City, VA. The program was attended by 103 SAME members and guests and representatives from the public and private sectors.

Major General Ronald Johnson, Director, US Army Installation Management Agency (IMA), gave an excellent presentation and provided an overview of the Agency's successful first two years and current initiatives. Major General Johnson discussed Environmental Stewardship and efforts to improve the Army's aging infrastructure.

The US Army Installation Management Agency (IMA) was created in October 2002 at the direction of the Secretary of the Army. IMA's mission is to provide equitable, effective, and efficient management of Army installations worldwide to support mission readiness and execution; enable the well-being of soldiers, civilians, and family members; improve the Army's aging infrastructure; and preserve our environment. IMA manages over $8 million and oversees approximately 80,000 military and civilian personnel in 179 garrisons worldwide. The Agency is organized into seven regions worldwide: four in the continental U.S., Europe, Pacific, and Korea. Under IMA's single-agency concept, the HQ staff and region offices share ideologies and resources in championing the issues that emerge during day-to-day operations.

Col. Tony Maida, SAME Washington DC Post President presented MG Johnson with the SAME coin and thanked for taking the time to present at the Post program,

SAME Washington DC Post Young Members Attend Nationals Game

The SAME Washington DC Post is no stranger to what's hot and what's not around town! Having said that, and with a new baseball team that recently came to town, our Young Members organized a phenomenal outing to see the Nationals play the Colorado Rockies.

The atmosphere was invigorating, the excitement overwhelming! Our Young Members had a fantastic time. Team players, the fans, the hot dogs, the popcorn and great company made for a wonderful event.

A group of almost 20 Young Members, Mentors and other SAME friends came out on July 20 to watch the Washington Nationals play the Colorado Rockies. Although the Nationals lost 2-3 to the Rockies in the end, they led for much of the game, and are still leading the NL East. SAME showed its support, with a number of people wearing their Washington Nationals gear and cheering loudly.

Everyone had a great time meeting new people and catching up with friends. There were also lots of questions about when the next

Young Members event will take place. Due to an overwhelming interest from our Young Members to continue to attend socials, networking sessions, fund outings and construction tours, the SAME Washington DC Post lined up a number of additional programs for 2005. You gotta love it!

Many thanks to Lauren Myers, the SAME Washington DC Post Young Members Director, for organizing this event.
